

What is a Coronavirus Plan?

A Coronavirus Plan gives you the opportunity to talk with a local expert in eldercare and aging well to ask specific questions and create an action plan tailored to your unique situation.

Founded in 2003, Aging Wisdom is intimate with the special needs and pressures of older adults and their families. We have trusting relationships and experience with local eldercare and health care providers so we can advise about best strategies given your resources and priorities.

HERE IS HOW THE PLANNING PROCESS WORKS:

Step 1: Initial virtual consultation to address your top three concerns and discuss safety issues with the current situation

Step 2: You will receive a written summary with Next Steps based on our discussion

Step 3: In addition, you will receive access to our Coronavirus Resource webpage which includes thoughtfully curated coronavirus materials and planning tools to further guide you.

“How do I support my mom to lessen the effects of prolonged isolation?”

“Should I bring my father home from assisted living?”

“Is it safe to have caregivers coming into the house?”

“What happens if I get sick?”

“How do I make treatment choices for my spouse if he contracts COVID-19?”
